Robert Geffner, PhD

President, Alliant's Institute on Violence, Abuse and Trauma

Tristan Svare, J.D.

Deputy District Attorney

Lt. Mike Hertica

Child Abuse and Domestic Violence Trainer & Consultant

This training is designed by professionals in specific fields to provide the newest techniques to increase your skill level. You will learn how to interview children with disabilities and how to turn the interview into a good case.

Many areas of disabilities are covered in the presentation, such as: Autism, Cerebral Palsy, & Down Syndrome. Most children have difficulty communicating and reaching out for help after abuse. Their perpetrator often goes unidentified and children can continue to be abused without a properly trained first responder to identify the problem.

8 hours of your time,
 could stop hours of child abuse!
